Dear Mr. Robertson,

RE: Mr. Arthur Miller, aged 41

I am writing to refer Mr. Miller, who has a diagnosis of moderate learning disability, and has been residing at your disability centre since May 2022, for further evaluation and support with his daily activities.

Following the loss of his mother in November 2023, Mr. Miller has experienced persistent low mood and has become increasingly socially withdrawn. While his insomnia has shown improvement with a previous medication for sleeping difficulty, his mood remains low despite the use of an antidepressant. Please note, a six-week course of psychotherapy has been arranged to start at the care home on 15 February.

Socially, Mr. Miller is supported by his sister and has a keen interest in computer games. In addition, his diet is currently inadequate, lacking sufficient vegetables and meat, which has resulted in low iron levels. Subsequently, he was commenced on iron supplements.

I would be grateful if you could take over Mr Miller's dietary improvements and monitor his compliance with all prescribed medications. I intend to review his progress on 26 January, and he has provided informed consent for this plan.

Should there be any queries, kindly do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely,

Doctor
